

Criteria Database: Topic 4.A

Search Results For:

4.A - Creating An Assessment Plan

back search close

NAEYC Accreditation TORCH Search >> Standard 4 >> Topic 4.A

print

4.A - Creating An Assessment Plan

- 4.A.01 - Programs conduct assessments as an integral part of the program. Programs use assessments to support children's learning, using a variety of methods such as observations, checklists, rating scales, and individually administered tests.
- 4.A.02 - The program has a written plan for assessment that describes assessment purposes, procedures, and uses of the results. The plan also includes
 - a. conditions under which children will be assessed,
 - b. timelines associated with assessments that occur throughout the year,
 - c. procedures to keep individual child records confidential,
 - d. ways to involve families in planning and implementing assessments, and
 - e. methods to effectively communicate assessment information to families.
- 4.A.03 - The program's written assessment plan includes the multiple purposes and uses of assessment including
 - a. arranging for developmental screening and referral for diagnostic assessment when indicated,
 - b. identifying children's interests and needs,
 - c. describing the developmental progress and learning of children,
 - d. improving curriculum and adapting teaching practices and the environment,
 - e. planning program improvement, and
 - f. communicating with families.

back to top

NAEYC Accreditation TORCH Search >> Standard 4 >> Topic 4.A

back | search | close

